ONE CENT

IS WAY TO GET STATE FROM MUD

Fifty Million Bond Issue Means Much to the People

STATES BUSY ON ROADS

The campaign to pull Pennsylvania out of the mud and to give the State a system of roads that will connect with and compare with those built by its neighboring commonwealths is now fairly begun—says the Harrisburg Telegraph, and the issue is squarely between those who desire good roads and those who for political reasons, lack of progressiveness, prejudice or ignorance, are opposed to the constitutional amendment to permit the State to borrow $50,000,000 for construction of highways on the system laid down by the legislature two years ago.

Two points made by those in opposition to the amendment have been most effectively answered from the rostrum by several of the eminent men of Pennsylvania, who spoke at the big roads convention held last week in Harrisburg, and as they form the main features of attack they can be summarized here.

The legislature will not be summoned in extra session to pass laws to enable the bonds to be put out. Governor Tener, who has the power, said squarely that he will not call an extra session, but will allow the legislature of 1915, when a new administration will be in power, to deal with the whole question.

The fixed charges, interest and sinking fund, will not be $3,000,000 a year, but less than $1,000,000. The life of the bonds will be from thirty to fifty years and the interest from 3 to 4 per cent, depending on conditions. Appropriations made for interest and redemption purposes will not be allowed to lie idle, but will be put on interest and the interest compounded every six months.

The bonds will be issued as required, from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 a year.

It is admitted everywhere that the payment for road building, no matter by what administration, out of current revenue, cannot be undertaken without curtailing appropriations to charities. The bond issue amendment, therefore, offers the only solution. Extension of the highway system, condemnation of toll roads and taking over of new highways will increase the annual charges for maintenance, and the demands for appropriations for state aid in building are now far beyond the ability of the state to comply with. Only the apportionment of a definite sum annually will enable systematic construction of main highways to proceed without hampering the state aid construction, the maintenance and the assistance to township highways.

New York, California, Massachusetts and other states have issued bonds for road building as the cities of Pennsylvania have done for years for paved streets and sewers.

Boyer, Harrisburg; vice presidents, J. S. McGrouarty, Wilkes-Barre; Glen S. Ross, Waynesburg; secretary, James Sweetney, Harrisburg; treasurer, B. Frank Rinn, Allentown; legislative committee, J. F. HUMPHRIES IS HONORED

Up River Fans Give Him Presents Then He Wins Game

Pert Humphries, of California, champion hurler of the Chicago Cubs and near champion hurler of the National league, was presented with a Parker shotgun worth $100, a gun case of the best selected leather and enough equipment to last him the fall hunting season by Charleroi fans at Pittsburg Thursday. Then he was presented with a diamond stud and a pair of hunting dogs by California admirers. Promptly he went into the pitcher's box and whetted his appetite by lamming the Pittsburg Pirates ball team by the score of 7 to 1.

Upper Monongahela friends of Humphries traveled to Pittsburg by way of a special car. There were 200 or more in the crowd. They occupied seats behind the Chicago bench. When Humphries appeared on the field, Tom P. Sloan, of Charleroi, and T. J. Underwood, of California, walked out. Mr. Sloan made the presentation speech for the Charleroi fans giving to Humphries the shotgun and equipment, and Underwood spoke for the Californians. Bert glanced at the gun, murmured his sincere thanks and walked back to the bench. The cynosure of all eyes and the envy of his teammates, he tucked the gun away and put the diamond in a safe place, and smilingly stepped to the mound to open up with a different kind of gun than that which he just received, with the Pittsburg heavy hitters as his victims.

He was rapturously cheered by the Charleroi and California boys. After the game his chums vaulted the grandstand rails and gave Bert a warm reception.

DILWORTH MINES TO OPERATE

Rices Landing Collieries Company to Start Soon

SUPT. BLACK IS BUSY

The Dilworth mines located at Rices Landing and now owned by the Rices Landing Coal and Coke company are being made ready for reopening. These mines have been closed for the last three years owing to the bankruptcy of the Dilworth Coal company, former owners of the work.

After the sale of the mines the new company immediately began work to open them again. New electrical machinery will be installed and all new safety appliances will be used. The work is under the supervision of James R. Black, a son of the former superintendent and when completed will give employment to over 300.

When in full operation this plant has a payroll of $5,000 every two weeks which means much for the merchants along the river. Superintendent Black is the Burgess and justice of the peace of Rices Landing and it is due to his effort that this mine is being reopened. It is understood that the electricity for this mine will be furnished by the West Penn electric company, as that company is running a line into Rices Landing.

REMOVING WRECK OF THE MORNING STAR

The work of removing the wreck of the Morning Star, the excursion boat which was destroyed by fire at the Monongahela wharf some weeks ago has started and it is expected that within a few days the last remnants will be removed. The Pittsburg Coal company and the River Masters and Pilots have been complaining about the wreck being a menace to other river crafts and they were instrumental in causing the wreck to be removed. Immediately after the fire the owner of the craft Captain John F. Klein turned the wreck over to the Marine Insurance company and it is up to them to cause it to be removed.

COMMENTS HEARD ON MEETINGS

State Washingtons and Republicans to Meet on Same Day

HARMONY EXISTS NOW

The fact that State Chairmen Wasson and Hicks have called meetings of the Republican and Washington party state committees for the same day, same place and almost the same hour, in Harrisburg, next Tuesday, is a coincidence that has caused much comment and started no end of speculation as to whether anything is meant by it. A rumor has spread about the city to the effect that an effort would be made to get the leaders in the two committees together and that support to the harmony plans is being heard in national circles. One story was that a working agreement would be made and another that greetings could be exchanged.

Unfortunately no one appears to believe very much in the stories. The two meetings, according to all reports, are to be separate and distinct, and Chairman Wasson will have nothing more to do than to start the meeting.

State officials influential in state Republican affairs said today that they did not take any stock in the story, and Senator Penrose shook his head when asked about it.

Those who are active in Washington party affairs said today that they knew nothing about it. Both sides agree that the meetings will be separate and distinct, although there will be much discussion of the obvious trend of Republicans back to their old party lines, and some may come over as individuals.

The election of Senator Crow as chairman, W. Harry Baker as secretary and Charles Johnson as treasurer is believed to be certain.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN IN PHOTOPLAY TODAY

Eliza will make her thrilling trip on ice across the Ohio river, bloodhounds will chase escaped slaves and Uncle Tom will get his final brutal beating from a cruel master in the dramatization of Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous novel. ROATS SAY FAREWELLS

Greene County Disturbers Leave for Former Home

With the departure of Abraham Roat and Mary Roat, his wife, for their home at Harrisburg, another stage of the famous Greene county court house scandal case has passed. Mrs. Roat was the woman in the case and pleaded nolo contendere to the charges in the indictment found against her and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail. Her husband stands indicted upon several counts, but has not been tried on any of them.

Last Saturday Judge Inghram paroled Mrs. Roat upon condition that the husband could show enough money to buy a ticket for each of them to Pittsburg and enough to take them from Pittsburg to Harrisburg their former home. For several days there was doubt as to whether they wanted to leave here. But Mr. Roat appeared and showed the required amount of money, so Sheriff White escorted the pair to the train.

The conditions of her parole are that Mrs. Roat must let the probation officer know of her whereabouts after reaching Harrisburg, that any change of address must be sent and that she appear in court in Greene county whenever called upon. If any of the conditions noted be broken Mr. and Mrs. Roat will be returned and Mrs. Roat will have to serve out her sentence.

FOX GIRL IS TAKEN TO FAIR

Granddaughter of Murdered Woman Recovering From Hurts

TO TELL STORY LATER

Among the interested spectators at the Carmichaels fair Thursday was 3-year-old Bertha Fox, who was frightfully injured by the assassin who on the morning of September 2 killed her grandmother, Mrs. Oliver Price in the Price homestead near Rices Landing. The child appeared well today and showed no ill effects of the terrible experience through which she has passed.

Some hours after the occurrence of the tragedy of a few weeks ago Bertha Fox, who is the daughter of Mrs. W. House, of Rices Landing, was found in a dazed condition in the yard at the Price home. An examination showed that she had been terribly injured and she was hurried to a Pittsburg hospital. For days her life was despaired of but recently she has improved and the first of this week she was taken to the House home in Rices Landing. The child was taken to the fair by her stepfather and she seemed to enjoy the outing thoroughly.

It was stated by members of the House household that no effort had yet been made to question Bertha Fox in regard to the tragedy at the Price home. It has been considered better to let the child regain her normal strength if possible before she is questioned as to what occurred.

MONESSEN WOMAN IS FOUND AT ALTOONA

A woman who proved to be Mrs. Louise Economy of Monessen, was picked up under mysterious conditions on the street in Altoona this week. She was trying to gain entrance to St. John's Protestant Cathedral. When accosted by a police officer, she begged to be taken to her hotel and later her identity was established. Mrs. Economy has been taking treatment for her mind at one of the Pittsburg hospitals and several days ago disappeared from the Hotel Anderson where she was stopping. She left a note which led her relatives to believe that she had taken her life. She was not heard of until picked up in Altoona. Arrangements were made at once for her removal home.

FAKE CONFESSIONS

"Wake up," said the brakeman to Bill Nye. "This is your station."

"Wake up!" exclaimed the humorist peevishly. "How do you know I was asleep?"

"Young man," retorted Nye solemnly, "don't you believe everything you hear."

There are other things as convincing as snore which are sometimes deceptive says the Harrisburg Telegraph. A young man arrested in Philadelphia for burglary surprised the police by confessing that he had murdered a girl in Rochester, N. Y., four years ago. He recounted the circumstances with such detail that it never occurred to the police to doubt his tale, experienced as they are in fake confessions.

But the Rochester authorities are very skeptical. They say that they can find no record of a man answering the description of the supposed murderer in or about Rochester. The prisoner asserts that he was working on a farm near the scene of the crime, but a thorough canvass of the farmers has failed to disclose one who can recall a strange "hand" in his employ or the employ of any neighbor at the time of the murder.

It is hard to believe that anybody could wish to fasten upon himself a revolting crime of which he is innocent, yet it is one of the strange phases of criminology that there are more fake confessions than bona fide

ones.

As the normal man is sometime-
given to claiming credit that does not belong to him, so the abnormal
criminal will deliberately lie himself
to the gallows in pursuit of a reputation.

Very often his mental disorder leads
him to believe that his confession is true, just as many honest inmates of
our lunatic asylums are convinced that they are Napoleon Bonaparte or George Washington. To protect these unbalanced individuals against themselves requires almost as much work
and adroitness on the part of the police as to protect society against
the depredations of those whose criminality is of a more secretive character.

PREACHERS' PAY

A Socialist of Pittsburgh who is a minister of the gospel is advocating equalization of salaries among clergymen in order that the men of the
cloth who now receive starvation
wages may benefit as well as some of their fellows who hold the facious with correspondingly facious salaries say the Washington Reporter.

'Tis a very pretty little program
that this reverend gentleman outlines with its one per cent ration per $100 of all ministerial salaries over $1,500,
the funds thus secured to be distributed among those divines receiving less than $1,500 per year. The plan sounds very good and the only fault
to be found with it is the fact that
under our present system of living it
is practically impossible of realization.

The originator of the scheme fails
to show how such a plan could be put into operation; he does not tell us
whether he would have state or national laws enacted for the purpose
or whether he would have the matter disposed of by church councils. And then who would decide on the proportionate shares of that one per cent

to go to each particular parson receiving less than $1,500.

We agree with the reverend Socialist in his belief that many clergymen should receive more money than they now do. No one will deny that the average preacher gets mighty little
pay for all the work expected of him.
And the minister who is an honest,
conscientious minister does do a lot of work of which the world never hears. He gives much to charity in cases where the name of the giver is
never blazoned forth in stone or beautifully inscribed memorials.

But there seems a more immediate
way of correcting this evil of too little pay. And that means lies in the hands of the individual congregations themselves. If a congregation
really values the services of its pastor, why should it not show that appreciation in some material way? Why should not the congregation raise the
really values the services of its pastor
to all that the man is not getting enough money on which to live decently and do the work for which he has
been hired by the people?

Of course believers in the equalization plan will at once point out that the congregations in actual practice fail to remedy the evil as they should. But to an unbiased observer
it does seem that there is more likelihood of persuading the various congregations to use business sense in paying their preachers than there
is in expecting a world-wide equalization scheme which presents all manner of difficulties both apparent
and yet to be discovered.

The military parade in Pittsburgh
Thursday in connection with the 125

the most successful and interesting try. The affair was held in their other branches of the service in the city the various veteran organiza-

the boys' brigades. The day's festi-

DUQUESNE—PITTSBURGH.

"Our Wives," which will have its first presentation in Pittsburgh by the Harry Davis Players at the Duquesne, twice daily next week, beginning with matinees Monday, September 29, is the delightful comedy by Helen Krafft and Frank Mandel which was first produced at Walter's Theatre, New York, last season and subsequently had an extended run at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, and still later in Boston, in all of which cities it created a furore. The play in its sub-title is called a "comedy of sex." It should not be. Rather, it is a satire on married life and bachelorhood, with its lesson for those who trot in double harness and those who run along alone. The action moves so rapidly, the situations are so exaggoratingly natural and the dialogue so spirited and witty that if there is a moral it is imparted in homoeopathic and very agreeable doses.

The story has to do with four chums—Bowers, a librettist; Martin a broker; Lyon, an artist, and Tatum, a dentist—and of course, their wives.

by which Sophia Tucker is heralded as next week's attraction extraordinary in Mr. Davis' program of polite vaudeville at the Grand Opera House. It will be Miss Tucker's initial visit to Pittsburgh as a vaudeville entertainer, albeit she has established a national popularity as the star of "Louisiana Lou." On the same bill we will have Billy Gould, the dapper and inimitable song-writer, story-teller and travestist, who will have as his accomplice in fun the witchlike and fascinating Belle Ashlyn. Stoop, Goodrich and King an American trio lately featured in the London production of "Hello Mr. Ragtime," will offer a brilliant blend of wit, lyrics, melody and jollity. A likely pair of entertainers are Carl Henry and Nellie Francis, whose act will be called "Just Enuffery." The blue sky limit is about the laughter-making latitude of the Steiner Trio, comedy bar gymnasts. Songs, dancing and talking, of a comic sort is a combination that will introduce Chester Spencer and Irene Williams. They are an unusual pair with an unusual act. These acts comprise about fifty per cent of the next week's bill.

ALVIN—PITTSBURGH.

Something more than a year has elapsed since Walker Whiteside startled Pittsburgh playgoers by his remarkable playing of the character of Tokorano, in the great Hungarian play "The Typhoon." Since that time this popular star has appeared in practically every large city in the United States and has achieved a measure of success beyond his fondest hopes. That he has elected to again appear at the Alvin theatre next week beginning Monday, September 29 is due to the pronounced impression which the play created upon the occasion of his first appearance in it.

Mr. Whiteside will be surroued by precisely the same company which appeared at the Alvin Theatre a year ago. The cast include the well known Pennsylvania actress, Miss Florence Fisher, Hubert Wilke, Stephen Wright, Arda LaCroix, Maud Shaw, Harold DeBecker and a dozen others. There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

GRAND—PITTSBURGH.

NIXON—PITTSBURGH.

Of interest to patrons of the drama is the announcement that Edmund Breese, late star in "The Lion and The Mouse," "The Spendthrift," and "The Scarecrow" will appear at the Nixon Theatre next week in a new four act play called "The Master Mind." Mr. Breese achieves a notable success at the Nixon last season, when, as Bill Sykes in the all-star revival of "Oliver Twist," he gave a vivid and powerful portrayal of the Dickens' brutal character. His work in "The Master Mind" is said to be more skillful, more daring, than anything he has done during his stage career. His character in this play of a master criminal who rules the denizens of the underworld with the authority of a king, planning his campaigns with all the cunning of a magician.

"The Master Mind" is from the pen of Daniel D. Carter, a playwright new to Pittsburgh. It was first produced at the Harris Theatre, New York, last season under the direction of Verba and Poescher and made a sufficiently good impression to remain on Broadway for five months.

CONTEST IS BIG FEATURE OF OPENING

With new and original ideas combined with opening day plans Berryman's store was the mecca of visitors Thursday from all along the Monongahela valley. Even the weather man was friendly and smiled his sweetest smile.

Usually opening day is not a buying day, but Thursday was at the large Berryman department store. This was partly due to the fact that prizes had been offered to the largest purchasers. J. D. Berryman, general manager of the store, and C. C. Suter, the floor manager made the final tabulation, they announced the list of winners as follows and gave prizes, the first going to the woman who during the day had bought the most:

Mrs. Shepler, $10; Miss Matilda Gardner, $5; Mrs. Klein, of Roscoe, $3; Mrs. U. S. Orange, $2; Mrs. L. T. Heiner, of Coal Centre. Mrs. Arthur Miksch, Charleroi; Mrs. R. B. Wycoff, Fayette City, Mrs. J. G. Steinbaugh, and Miss Minnie Elliott, each receiving $1.

The Berryman fall opening is being continued today. As on the first day all departments are decorated and goods are being displayed in a most attractive way.

"Loss of life, unsatisfactory wages, irregular employment of miners and other sources of trouble in the bituminous coal fields is due chiefly to ruinous competition" declared V. H. Manning, acting director of the bureau of mines, in his address before the convention of the American Mine Safety association, in Pittsburgh Monday night. Continuing he said:

"The margin of profit is so small and the operator has to economize to such an extent that many of the modern devices and schemes for better and safer mining could not be employed because if they were the workings would be running at a loss."

Mr. Manning's address was the most important of the convention and was startling in many respects. He reviewed the progress being made in cutting down the loss of life to the number of tons of coal mined and predicted better results in the matter of safety for the future.

WILSON NOMINATED AS MARSHALL THURSDAY

Henry H. Wilson of Beaver, Thursday was nominated as United States marshal at the Western District of Pennsylvania at Pittsburgh to succeed E. H. Porter, who is to be ousted before the customary term of four years has expired. National Committeeman A. Mitchell Palmer and Representative Warren Worth Bailey of Johnstown, were back of Wilson. It is the intention of the Department of Justice to have Wilson confirmed by the Senate in time for him to take office October 1. In the meantime his deputies will be selected from among Western Pennsylvania Democrats who have been disappointed in postoffice appointments.

The Democratic reorganizers are of the opinion to confirm C. G. Llewellyn of the senate to confirm C. G. Llewellyn of Brownsville, Pa., as internal revenue collector to succeed D. B. Heiner, and H. H. McGinnis of Pittsburgh to succeed John D. Pringle as appraiser of customs at Pittsburgh. Several good jobs are dependent upon the two Democrats taking office and until their commissions are awarded them these places cannot be filled. But one other Western Pennsylvania appointment hangs fire, that of surveyor of the port, to succeed M. M. Garland. George W. Acklin of Pittsburgh is slated for the place and may be named early next week.

H. H. Bubbett of Washington, is to be named an assistant attorney under District Attorney E. Lowrey. Humes, but the appointment is to be delayed until after the October term of court in Pittsburgh. Meanwhile the present occupant of the place will perform the duties of the office. Daniel S. Horn of Bedford, who was a candidate for the district attorneyship, will be named successor to First Assistant Robert Gibson, who has been attached to the office under various chiefs.

It is understood that Democrats from the country are to be given collectorships of income tax. More than 40 collectors, with salaries ranging from $2,500 a year and upward, will be required to collect the tax in the Keystone state. Each collector will have a deputy and several clerks to assist him in his work. Appointments will be made following the signing of the tariff bill by President Wilson.

IN COMPLIMENT TO THE BRIDES TO BE

Miss Catherine Downer of Monongahela, on Wednesday evening entertained with dinner in compliment to Miss Louise Austen whose marriage to Dr. Leroy W. Hoon will be an event of Wednesday, October 8. The guest list included the members of Miss Austen's bridal party. On Saturday afternoon Miss Helen Teeters will entertain for Miss Austen and Miss Catherine Downer, who has chosen October 28 as the date for her marriage to Donald James Herron. On October 3 Miss Charlene Stephens will be hostess in honor of Misses Austen and Downer, while on October 4 Miss Rachael Borland will have the guests at the Commercial hotel for luncheon. Miss Lida Billick will be hostess with dinner at the Commercial hotel on October 7, closing a most elaborate and gay pre-wedding festivity.

BEING YOUR OWN BANKER

It has been said that the prosperity of the Banking houses reflects the prosperity of the nation. Not a bit of doubt of it. They do more than reflect the prosperity of the nation—they absorb it. They gather in the rich golden grain, scrape it dry and throw a 4 per cent husk to the dear public—of which you and I are a part. The country is prosperous—because you and I are able to work, and save a little from our work to give to the Banks. And the banks take our money and loan it again—loan it to other men. And our money thus invested for the banker, gives us more work, a little more wages, perhaps, and more money to give to the banks.

And so the wheel goes turning around, and only stops when we die, and starts again when some one else takes up the grind. Wouldn't you like to be a banker? You can be—your own banker at least. Become a Co-operator, invest your money for a full share in our association—and work for results.

IS WAY TO GET STATE FROM MUD

Fifty Million Bond Issue Means Much to the People

STATES BUSY ON ROADS

The campaign to pull Pennsylvania out of the mud and to give the State a system of roads that will be built with and compare with those built by its neighboring commonwealths is now fairly begun says the Harrisburg Telegraph, and the issue is squarely between those who desire good roads and those who for political reasons, lack of progressiveness, prejudice or ignorance, are opposed to the constitutional amendment to permit the State to borrow $50,000,000 for construction of highways on the system laid down by the legislature two years ago.

Two points made by those in opposition to the amendment have been most effectively answered from the rostrum by several of the eminent men of Pennsylvania who spoke at the big roads convention held last week in Harrisburg, and as they form the main features of attack they can be summarized here.

The legislature will not be summoned in extra session to pass laws to enable the bonds to be put out. Governor Tener, who has the power, said squarely that he will not call an extra session, but will allow the legislature of 1915, when a new administration will be in power, to deal with the whole question.

The fixed charges, interest and sinking fund, will not be $3,600,000 a year, but less than $1,000,000. The life of the bonds will be from thirty to fifty years and the interest from 8 to 4 per cent, depending on conditions. Appropriations made for interest and redemption purposes will not be allowed to be idle, but will be put on interest and the interest compounded every six months.

The bonds will be issued as required, from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 a year.

It is admitted everywhere that the payment for road building, no matter by what administration, out of current revenue, cannot be undertaken without curtailing appropriations to charities. The bond issue amendment, therefore, offers the only solution. Extension of the highway system, condemnation of toll roads and taking over of new highways will increase the annual charges for maintenance, and the demands for appropriations for state aid in building are now far beyond the ability of the state to comply with. Only the apportionment of a definite sum annually will enable systematic construction of main highways to proceed without hampering the state aid construction, the maintenance and the assistance to township highways.

New York, California, Massachusetts and other states have issued bonds for road building as the cities of Pennsylvania have done for years for paved streets and sewers.

Sealers of State Meet

Officers Elected at Final Meeting Thursday Afternoon at Harrisburg

After recommending national legislation for the regulation of measures and weights and appointing a legislative committee, the state sealers met Thursday afternoon at Harrisburg.

After electing the following officers: President, Harry A. Boyer, Harrisburg; vice presidents, J. S. McGarity, Wilkes-Barre; Glenn S. Ross, Wayneburg; secretary, James Sweeney, Harrisburg; treasurer, B. J. Strawn, W. J. Callahan, Uniontown; R. B. Clayton, Pottsville; W. G. Dunn, Altoona, and W. H. Sanner, Somerset.

HUMPHRIES IS HONORED

Up River Fans Give Him Presents Then He Wins Game

Bert Humphries, of California, champion hurler of the Chicago Cubs and near champion hurler of the National league, was presented with a Parker shotgun worth $100, a gun case of the best selected leather and enough equipment to last him the fall hunting season by Charleroi fans at Pittsburgh Thursday. Then he was presented with a diamond stud and a pair of hunting dogs by California admirers. Promptly he went into the pitcher's box and whirled his appetite by lamming the Pittsburgh Pirates' ball team by the score of 7 to 1.

Upper Monongahela friends of Humphries traveled to Pittsburgh by way of a special car. There were 200 or more in the crowd. They occupied seats behind the Chicago bench. When Humphries appeared on the field, Tom P. Sloan, of Charleroi and T. J. Underwood, of California walked out. Mr. Sloan made the presentation speech for the Charleroi fans giving to Humphries the shot gun and equipment, and Underwood spoke for the Californians. Bert glanced at the gun, murmured his sincere thanks and walked back to the bench. The cynosure of all eyes and the envy of his teammates, he tucked the gun away and put the diamond in a safe place, and smilingly stepped to the mound to open up with a different kind of gun than that which he just received, with the Pittsburgh heavy hitters as his victims.

He was rapturously cheered by the Charleroi and California boys. After the game his chums vaulted the grandstand rails and gave Bert a warm reception.

Rices Landing Collieries Company to Start Soon

SUPT. BLACK IS BUSY

The Dilworth mines, located at Rices Landing and now owned by the Rices Landing Coal and Coke company are being made ready for operating. These mines have been closed for the last three years owing to the bankruptcy of the Dilworth Coal company, former owners of the work.

After the sale of the mines the new company immediately began work to open them again. New electrical machinery will be installed and all new safety appliances will be used. The work is under the supervision of James R. Black, a son of the former superintendent and when completed will give employment to over 300.

When in full operation this plant has a payroll of $5,000 every two weeks which means much for the merchants along the river. Superintendent Black is the Burgess and justice of the peace of Rices Landing and it is due to his efforts that this mine is being reopened. It is understood that the electricity for this mine will be furnished by the West Penn electric company, as that company is running a line into Rices Landing.

REMOVING WRECK OF THE MORNING STAR

The work of removing the wreck of the Morning Star, the excursion boat which was destroyed by fire at the Monongahela wharf some weeks ago has started and it is expected that within a few days the last remnants will be removed. The Pittsburgh Coal company and the River Masters and Pilots have been complaining about the wreck being a menace to other river crafts and they were instrumental in causing the wreck to be removed. Immediately after the fire the owner of the craft Captain John F. Klein turned the wreck over to the Marine Insurance company and it is up to them to cause it to be removed.

HARMONY EXISTS NOW

The fact that State Chairmen Wasson and Hicks have called meetings of the Republican and Washington party state committees for the same day, same place and almost the same hour in Harrisburg, next Tuesday, is a coincidence that has caused much comment and started on end of speculation as to whether a yoking is meant by it. A rumor has spread about the city to the effect that an effort would be made to get the leaders in the two committees together and that support to the harmony plan is being heard in national circles. One story was that a working agreement would be made and another that greetings could be exchanged.

Unfortunately no one appears to believe very much in the stories. The two meetings, according to all reports, are to be separate and distinct, and Chairman Wasson will have nothing more to do than to start the meeting.

State officials influential in state Republican affairs said today that they did not take any stock in the story, and Senator Penrose shook his head when asked about it.

Those who are active in Washington party affairs said today that they knew nothing about it. Both sides agree that the meetings will be separate and distinct, although there will be much discussion of the obvious trend of Republicans back to their old party lines, and some may come over as individuals.

The election of Senator Crow as chairman, W. Harry Baker as secretary and Charles Johnson as treasurer is believed to be certain.

ROATS SAY FAREWELLS

Greene County Disturbers Leave for Former Home

With the departure of Abraham Roat and Mary Roat, his wife, for their home at Harrisburg, another stage of the famous Greene county court house scandal case has passed.

Mrs. Roat was the woman in the case and pleaded not guilty to the charge in the judgment found against her, and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail. Her husband stands indicted upon several counts, but has not been tried on any of them.

Last Saturday Judge Ingram paroled Mrs. Roat upon condition that the husband could show enough money to buy a ticket for each of them to Pittsburgh and enough to take them from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg their former home. For several days there was doubt as to whether they wanted to leave here. But Mr. Roat appeared and showed the required amount of money, so Sheriff White escorted the pair to the train.

The conditions of her parole are that Mrs. Roat must let the probation officer know of her whereabouts after reaching Harrisburg, that any change of address must be sent and that she appear in court in Greene county whenever called upon. If any of the conditions noted be broken Mr. and Mrs. Roat will be returned and Mrs. Roat will have to serve out her sentence.

Granddaughter of Murdered Woman Recovering From Hurts

TO TELL STORY LATER

Among the interested spectators at the Carmichael's fair Thursday was a young girl, Bertha Fox, who was injured by the assassin on September 2.

She is the Price homestead near Rices Landing. The child appeared today and showed no ill effects from the terrible experience through which she has passed. Some hours after the occurrence of the tragedy of a few weeks ago Bertha Fox, who is the daughter of Mrs. W. House, of Rices Landing, was found in a cased condition in the yard at the Price home. An examination showed that she had been terribly injured and she was hurried to the Pittsburg hospital. For days her life was despaired of but recently she is improved and the first of this week she was taken to the House home in Rices Landing. The child was taken to the fair by her stepfather and she seemed to enjoy the outing thoroughly.

It was stated by members of the House household that no effort had yet been made to question Bertha Fox in regard to the tragedy at the Price home. It has been considered better to let the child regain her normal strength if possible before she is questioned as to what occurred.

MONESSEN WOMAN IS FOUND AT ALTOONA

A woman who proved to be Mrs. Louise Economy of Monessen, was picked up under mysterious conditions on the street in Altoona this week. She was trying to gain entrance to St. John's Protestant Cathedral when accosted by a police officer, she begged to be taken to her hotel and later her identity was established. Mrs. Economy has been taking treatment for her mind at one of the Pittsburgh hospitals and several days ago disappeared from the Hotel Anderson where she was stopping. She left a note which led her relatives to believe that she had taken her life. She was not heard of until picked up in Altoona. Arrangements were made at once for her removal home.

"Wake up," said the brakeman to
Nye. "This is your station."
"Wake up!" exclaimed the humorist warily. "How do you know I was asleep?"
"Young man," retorted Nye solidly, "don't you believe everything
you hear."
There are other things as convincing as snore which are sometimes deceptive says the Harrisburg Telegraph. A young man arrested in Philadelphia for burglary surprised police by confessing that he had derogated a girl in Rochester, N. Y., years ago. He recounted the circumstances with such detail that never occurred to the police to doubt his tale, experienced as they
are in fake confessions.
The Rochester authorities are skeptical. They say that they find no record of a man answering the description of the supposed derogator in or about Rochester. The man asserts that he was working on a farm near the scene of the
crime, but a thorough canvass of the area has failed to disclose one
who can recall a strange "hand" in employment or the employment of any labor at the time of the murder.
It is hard to believe that anybody would wish to fasten upon himself a crime of which he is innocent, yet it is one of the strange

more fake confessions than bona fide
ones.

As the normal man is sometimes
given to claiming credit that does
not belong to him, so the abnormal
criminal will deliberately lie himself
to the gallows in pursuit of a reputation.
Very often his mental disorder leads
him to believe that his confession is
true, just as many honest inmates of
our lunatic asylums are convinced that
they are Napoleon Bonaparte or George Washington. To protect these unbalanced individuals against themselves requires almost as much work
and adroitness on the part of the
police as to protect society against
the depredations of those whose criminality is of a more secretive character.

PREACHERS' PAY

A Socialist of Pittsburg who is a minister of the gospel is advocating
equalization of salaries among clergy-
men in order that the men of the
cloth who now receive starvation
wages may benefit as well as some of their fellows who hold the fat chairs with correspondingly fat salaries says the Washington Reporter.

'Tis a very pretty little program
that this reverend gentleman outlines with its one per cent taxation per $100
of all ministerial salaries over $1,500,
the funds thus secured to be distributed among those divines receiving less than $1,500 per year. The plan
sounds very good and the only fault
to be found with it is the fact that
under our present system of living it
is practically impossible of realization.

The originator of the scheme fails
to show how such a plan could be put
into operation; he does not tell us
whether he would have state or national laws enacted for the purpose
or whether he would have the matter
disposed of by church councils. And
then who would decide on the proportion of the tax?

fund and who would fix the amount
to go to each particular parson receiving less than $1,500.

We agree with the reverend Socialist in his belief that many clergymen
should receive more money than they
now do. No one will deny that the average preacher gets mighty little
pay for all the work expected of him.
And the minister who is an honest,
conscientious minister does do a lot
of work of which the world never
hears. He gives much to charity in
cases where the name of the giver is
never blazoned forth in stone or beautifully inscribed memorials.

But there seems a more immediate
way of correcting this evil of too
little pay. And that means lies in the hands of the individual congregations themselves. If a congregation
really values the services of its pastor
why should it not show that appreciation not the congregation raise the

really values the services of its pastor
to all that the man is not getting
enough money on which to live decent-
ly and do the work for which he has
been hired by the people?

Of course believers in the equal-
ization plan will at once point out
that the congregations in actual practice fail to remedy the evil as they should. But to an unbiased observer
it does seem that there is more likelihood of persuading the various congregations to use business sense in
paying their preachers than there
is in expecting a world-wide equal-
ization scheme which presents all
manner of difficulties both apparent
and yet to be discovered.

OBSERVANCE OF MILITARY DAY

The military parade in Pittsburg
Thursday in connection with the 125
anniversary of the founding of Allegany county proved to be one of the most successful and interesting affairs of the kind ever held in Pittsburg. The entire Pittsburg National guard was in line together with the other branches of the service in the

city the various veteran organizations, the patriotic associations and the boys' brigades. The day's festivities wound up with a military ball and a reunion of the Duquesne Greys, now known as the Eighteenth Infantry, the most successful and interesting spacious armory at the corner of Thackery and O'Hara streets.

The man who complains when his wife wears a slit skirt is just as like as not to be found in the front row at the burlesque show.

DUQUESNE—PITTSBURG.

"Our Wives," which will have its first presentation in Pittsburgh by the Harry Davis Players at the Duquesne, twice daily next week, beginning with matinee Monday, September 26, is the delightful comedy by Helen Kraft and Frank Mandel, which was first produced at Wallick's Theatre, New York, last season and subsequently had an extended run at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, and still later in Boston, in all of which cities it created a furore. The play in its sub-title is called a "comedy of sex." It should not be. Rather, it is a satire on married life and bachelorhood, with its lesson for those who trot in double harness and those who run along alone. The action moves so rapidly, the situations are so exagggeratingly natural and the dialogue so spirited and witty that if there is a moral it is imparted in homopathic and very agreeable doses. The story has to do with four chums—Bowers, a librettist; Martin a broker; Lyon, an artist, and Tatum, a dentist—and of course, their wives.

ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

Something more than a year has elapsed since Walker Whiteside startled Pittsburgh playgoers by his remarkable playing of the character of Tokorano, in the great Hungarian play "The Typhoon." Since that time this popular star has appeared in practically every large city in the United States and has achieved a measure of success beyond his fondest hopes. That he has elected to again appear at the Alvin theatre next week beginning Monday, September 29 is due to the pronounced impression which the play created upon the occasion of his first appearance in it.

Mr. Whiteside will be accompanied by the famous company which appeared at the Alvin Theatre a year ago. The cast include the well known Pennsylvania actress, Miss Florence Fisher, Hubert Wilke, Stephen Wright, Arda LaCroix, Maud Shaw, Harold DeBecker and a dozen others. There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

GRAND—PITTSBURG.

"The Merry Garden of Ragtime" is the expressive and significant style

by which Sophia Tucker is heralded as next week's attraction extraordinary in Mr. Davis' program of polite vaudeville at the Grand Opera House. It will be Miss Tucker's initial visit to Pittsburgh as a vaudeville entertainer, albeit she has established a national popularity as the star of "Louisiana Lou." On the same bill we will have Billy Gould, the dapper and imitable song-writer, story-teller and travestist, who will have as his accomplice in fun the witching and fascinating Billie Ashlyn. Stoop, Goodrich and King an American trio lately featured in the London production of "Hello Mr. Ragtime," will offer a brilliant blend of wit, lyrics, melody and jollity. A likely pair of entertainers are Carl Henry and Nellie Francis, whose act will be called "Just Buffoonery." The blue sky limit is about the laughter-making latitude of the Steiner Trio, comedy bar gymnasts. Songs, dancing and talking, of a comic sort is a combination that will introduce Chester Spencer and Irene Williams. They are an unusual pair with an unusual act. These acts comprise about fifty per cent of the next week's bill.

NIXON—PITTSBURG.

Of interest to patrons of the drama is the announcement that Edmund Breese, late star in "The Lion and The Mouse," "The Spendthrift," and "The Scarecrow" will appear at the Nixon Theatre next week in a new four act play called "The Master Mind." Mr. Breese achieved a notable success at the Nixon last season, when, as Bill Sykes in the all-star revival of "Oliver Twist," he gave a vivid and powerful portrayal of the Dickens' brutal character. His work in "The Master Mind" is said to be more skillful, more daring, than anything he has done during his stage career. His character in this play of a master criminal who rules the denizens of the underworld with the authority of a king, planning his campaigns with all the cunning of a magician.

"The Master Mind" is from the pen of Daniel D. Carter, a playwright new to Pittsburgh. It was first produced at the Harris Theatre, New York, last season under the direction of Werba and Poescher and made a sufficiently good impression to be

CONTEST IS BIG

FEATURE OF OPENING

With new and original ideas combined with opening day plans Berryman's store was the mecca of visitors Thursday from all along the Monongahela valley. Even the weather man was friendly and smiled his best smile.

Usually opening day is not a buying day, but Thursday was at the large Berryman department store. This was partly due to the fact that prices had been offered to the largest purchasers. J. D. Berryman, general manager of the store, and C. C. Suter, the floor manager made the final tabulations, they announced the list of winners as follows and gave prizes: the first going to the woman who during the day had bought the most: Mrs. Shepler, $10; Miss Matilda Martin, $5; Mrs. Klein, of Roseco, $3; Mrs. U. S. Orange, $2; Mrs. L. T. Heimer, of Coal Centre. Mrs. Arthur Muech, Charleroi; Mrs. R. B. Wycoff, Fayette City; Mrs. J. G. Steinboach, and Miss Marie E. Hart, each receiving $1.

The Berryman fall opening is being continued today. As on the first day all departments are decorated and goods are being displayed in a most attractive way.

"Loss of 12c, unsatisfactory wages, regular employment of miners and other sources of trouble in the bituminous coal fields is due chiefly to ruinous competition," declared V. H. Manning, acting director of the bureau of mines, in his address before the convention of the American Mine Safety association, in Pittsburg Monday night. Continuing he said:

"The margin of profit is so small and the operator has to economize to such an extent that many of the modern devices and schemes for better and safer mining could not be employed because if they were the work would be running at a loss."

Mr. Manning's address was the most important of the convention and was startling in many respects. He reviewed the progress being made in cutting down the loss of life to the number of tons of coal mined and predicted better results in the matter of safety for the future.

WILSON NOMINATED AS MARSHALL THURSDAY

Henry H. Wilson of Beaver, Thursday was nominated as United States marshal at the Western District of Pennsylvania at Pittsburg to succeed E. H. Porter, who is to be ousted before the customary term of four years has expired. National Committeeman A. Mitchell Palmer and Representative Warren Worth Bailey of Johnstown, were back of Wilson. It is the intention of the Department of Justice to have Wilson confirmed by the Senate in time for him to take office October 1. In the meantime his deputies will be selected from among Western Pennsylvania Democrats who have been disappointed in postoffice appointments.

The Democratic reorganizers are of the senate to confirm C. G. Llewellyn of the senate to confirm C. G. Llewellyn of Broadsville, Pa., as internal revenue collector to succeed D. B. Heimer, and H. H. McGinnis of Pittsburg to succeed John D. Pringle as appraiser of customs at Pittsburg. Several good jobs are dependent upon the two Democrats taking office and until their commissions are awarded them these places cannot be filled. But one other Western Pennsylvania appointment hangs fire, that of surveyor of the port, to succeed M. M. Garland. George W. Adkin of Pittsburg is slated for the place and may be named early next week.

H. H. B. of Washington is to be named an assistant attorney under District Attorney E. Lowe. Humes, but the appointment is to be delayed until after the October term of court in Pittsburg. Meanwhile the present occupant of the place will perform the duties of the office. Daniel S. Horn of Bedford, who was a candidate for the district attorneyship, will be named successor to First Assistant Robert Gibson, who has been attached to the office under various chiefs.

It is understood that Democrats from the country are to be given collectorships of income tax. More than 40 collectors, with salaries ranging from $2,500 a year and upward, will be required to collect the tax in the Keystone state. Each collector will have a deputy and several clerks to assist him in his work. Appointments will be made following the signing of the tariff bill by President Wilson.

It has been said that the prosperity of the Banking houses reflects the prosperity of the nation. Not a bit of doubt of it. They do more than reflect the prosperity of the nation—they absorb it. They gather in the rich and give them a dry and throw a 4 per cent hunk to the dear public—of which you and I are a part. The country is prosperous—because you and I are able to work, and save a little from our work to give to the Banks. And the banks take our money and loan it again—loan it to other men. And our money thus invested for the banker, gives us more work, a little more wages, perhaps, and more money to give to the banks.

And so the wheel goes turning around, and only stops when we die, and starts again when some one else takes up the grind. Wouldn't you like to be a banker? You can be—your own banker at least. Become a Co-operator, invest your money for a full share in our association—and work for results.
